Summary of reasons for decision:

This short film is one of a compilation made by school students for the Roxy5 Short Film Competition 2017. These films often highlight relationship and social issues. This short fleetingly deals with subject matter that may confuse, frighten or disturb very young children. Clarification by an accompanying parent or guardian will help children appreciate the context and moderate the impact of these presentations. The classification is consistent with the right to freedom of expression enshrined within the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990.
